Annexure-B Management Discussion and Analysis

(Forming part of Directors' Report)

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Four years after the eruption of the global financial crisis, the world economy is still struggling to recover. During 2013, global economic growth has weakened further. A growing number of developed economies have fallen into a double-dip recession. Those in severe sovereign debt distress moved even deeper into recession, caught in the downward spiraling dynamics from high unemployment, weak aggregate demand compounded by fiscal austerity, high public debt burdens, and financial sector fragility. Growth in the major developing countries and economies in transition has also decelerated notably, reelecting both external vulnerabilities and domestic challenges. Most low-income countries have held up relatively well so far, but now face intensified adverse spillover effects from the slowdown in both developed and major middle-income countries. The prospects for the next two years continue to be challenging, fraught with major uncertainties and risks slanted towards the downside.

INDIAN ECONOMY

The statistic shows the growth of the real gross domestic product (GDP) in India from 2004 to 2014. GDP refers to the total market value of all goods and services that are produced within a country per year. It is an important indicator of the economic strength of a country. Real GDP is adjusted for price changes and is therefore regarded as a key indicator for economic growth. In 2012, India's real gross domestic product growth was at about 4.5 percent compared to the previous year.

Gross domestic product (GDP) growth rate in India

Despite the world-wide recession in 2008 and 2009, India still managed to record impressive GDP growth rates, especially when most of the world recorded negative growth in at least one of those years.

Part of the reason for India's success is the economic liberalization that started in 1991 and encouraged trade subsequently ending some public monopolies. GDP growth has slowed in recent years, due in part to skyrocketing inflation. India's workforce is expanding in the industry and services sectors, growing partially because of international outsourcing — a profitable venture for the Indian economy. The agriculture sector in India is still a global power, producing more wheat or tea than anyone in the world except for China. However, with the mechanization of a lot of processes and the rapidly growing population, India's unemployment rate remains relatively high.

INDIAN ENTERTAINMENT AND MEDIA INDUSTRY

The Indian media and entertainment (M&E) industry is full of potential and has a tremendous impact on the country's economy. As per a FICCI-KPMG report, India's M&E industry reaches 161 million TV households; 94,067 newspapers; about 2000 multiplexes; and 214 million internet users, of which 130 million access the Internet on their mobile phones.

The industry grows with each passing day and plays a significant role in creating awareness on many issues that impact the masses. India's population is over 1.2 billion. These numbers give the M&E industry in India a tremendous opportunity for growth. A few years ago, the idea of reaching and engaging the country's population seemed improbable. That scenario has completely changed today and the current industry is armed with digital technologies, modern mobile devices, penetration of broadband internet and digital cinema, and considerable backing from the Central Government.

Market Size

India's M&E industry registered a growth of 12 per cent in 2013 and touched Rs 91,800 crore (US$ 15.27 billion). The industry has the potential to grow at 14.2 per cent to more than Rs 1.78 trillion (US$ 29.61 billion) in the next four years, as per a report by FICCI-KPMG.

The television industry in India, which was estimated at Rs 41,720 crore (US$ 6.94 billion) in 2013, is projected to increase at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 16.2 per cent over 2013-18, to reach Rs 88,500 crore (US$ 14.72 billion) by 2018.

With an estimated market size of US$ 5 billion, India is the 14th biggest advertising market globally, as per the latest edition of the Gunn Report. Digital advertising is also expected to witness a CAGR of 27.7 per cent by 2018.

The foreign direct investment (FDI) inflows in information and broadcasting (I&B) sector (including print media) during April 2000 to March 2014 stood at US$ 3,712.72 million, as per the data released by Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP).

FUTURE OUTLOOK

India's M&E industry will continue to bank on the digital area in future. With a growing internet user base of over 200 million, the industry's potential to generate revenue is vast. In 2013, telecom companies started focusing on data as a way to generating revenue. Also, advertising agencies competed with each other to acquire in the social media and digital domains. These developments suggest a bright future for the M&E industry in the country.

It is also time for the M&E sector to start looking at opportunities outside India. Africa and the Middle East are two of the fastest growing M&E markets, and Indian M&E companies would do well to explore these regions.

The companies with a variety of opportunities to deliver localized content. Many global film studios and TV broadcasters have already entered these markets and are producing regional language content. Finally, there is the evolution of consumption of digital content, which is at an inflection point in India. Although internet penetration is currently low in the country, the recent launch of 3G services and the eventual launch of 4G are expected to bring a late surge in wireless-based broadband adoption. In conjunction with India's mobile phone user base of more than 750 million subscribers, the scale and impact of the country's potential for digital content consumption is huge. This presents M&E companies, foreign and domestic, with an exciting opportunity to develop digital businesses that cater to a new generation of broadband users. While there are many opportunities to tap, there are also unique differences and challenges. Diverse content preferences and the low price point and high volumes of content consumption are some of the critical differences that global M&E companies need to assess when entering the Indian market. Companies that understand and adapt to the economic and social fabric of the country's operating environment and that invest in tailored content and services are likely to maximize their success. M&E companies operating in India continue to be exposed to risks ranging from local competition to fraud, corruption and piracy. Furthermore, although the development of corporate governance norms and ongoing structural and regulatory reforms are expected to mitigate these threats, global M&E companies need to develop flexible business plans, and identify and develop mitigation strategies for key risks.

OPPORTUNITIES

Increasing importance of new media along with customers increasingly adapting their preferences to the new media devices and technologies, the media and entertainment sector certainly is marching towards new horizons of growth. Regional media consumption is expected to grow phenomenally in foreseeable future. Realizing the potential and power of regional media, many national and foreign players have already forayed into the segment, and many others are likely to follow suit, going forward this foray will increase regional media consumption. There is a huge demand for premium and special interest content like comedy, thriller, horror and action movies and demand for different type of music is also increasing. This can be seen with so many dedicated music channels coming up on television. To tap this niche market and understand the preferences of the consumer in this market through user behavior, creating/ repurposing content for different platform is needed and this will effectively open more channels to monetize content leading to growth of the industry and the Company.

THREATS

Economy risk

Investment in the film industry is highly speculative and inherently risky. There can be no assurance of the economic success of any picture since the revenues derived from the production and distribution of a picture depend primarily upon its acceptance by the public, which cannot be predicted. The commercial success of a picture also depends upon the quality and acceptance of other competing films released into the marketplace at or near the same time, general economic factors and other tangible and intangible factors, all of which can change and cannot be predicted with certainty.

High Talent cost

There has been a constant increase in the talent cost leading to increase in cost of production and making it difficult to recover the cost. The Company has deep relationships with artists at every level which help them sign stars at correct costs, thereby keeping a check on unreal production costs.

Piracy

The problem of piracy assumes a different proportion in a country such as India with an area of 3.3 million sq. km. and a population of over 1 billion speaking 22 different languages. It impacts all segments of the industry especially films, music and television. Most of the credible efforts today to combat piracy have been initiated by industry bodies themselves. On part of the government, lack of empowered officers for enforcement of anti-piracy laws remains the key issue that is encouraging the menace of piracy. This, coupled with the lengthy legal and arbitration process, is being viewed as a deterrent to the crusade against pirates.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS

The Company recognizes the importance of internal controls and their adequacy and has taken commensurate steps in this regard. The Company has in process the systems that are needed to manage the business of the scale and size which the company has evolved into. Risks and controls are regularly viewed by senior and responsible officers of the Company that assure strict adherence to budgets and effective and optimal use of resources.

DISCUSSION OF FINANCIAL ANALYSIS

The Company's financial performance is discussed in details under the head "Results of Operations" in Directors Report to the Members.

HUMAN RESOURCES

At CCIL, we believe that human resources represent one of the most important organizational assets and it takes pride in its open non-bureaucratic culture marked by high access to decision makers. CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Statements in the Management Discussion and Analysis describing the Company's objectives, projections, Estimates and expectations may be 'forward looking statements' within the meaning of applicable securities laws and regulations. Actual results could differ materially from those expressed or implied. Important factors that could influence the Company's operations include economic developments within the country, demand and supply conditions in the industry, input prices, changes in Government regulations, tax laws and other factors such as litigation and industrial relations.

1. Significant Accounting Policies:
a) Basis of Accounting:

The financial statements have been prepared on an accrual basis of accounting and in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles in India, provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 (the Act) and comply in material aspects with the accounting standards notified under Section 211 (3C) of the Act, read with the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2009.

b) Use of Estimates:

The preparation and presentation of financial statements requires estimates and assumptions and/or revised estimates and assumptions to be made that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities on the date of financial statements and reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Differences between the actual results and estimates are recognized in the period in which the results are known/materialized.

c) Cash Flow Statement:

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit/ (loss) before tax is adjusted with Cash and cash equivalents (with an original maturity of three months or less) held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments.

d) Revenue Recognition:

Company generally follows the mercantile system of accounting and recognizes income and expenses on accrual basis, including provisions or adjustments for committed obligations and amounts deemed as payable or receivable during the year.

e) Fixed Assets:

Fixed Assets are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Cost comprises the purchase price, including duties and other non-refundable taxes or levies any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition and indirect costs specifically attributable to a fixed asset.

Assets retired from active use are carried at lower of book value and estimated net realizable value.

f) Method of Depreciation:

As per the accounting standard – 6, Depreciation on Fixed Assets, is provided on the “Written down Value Method” (W.D.V) at the rates specified in the Schedule XIV to the Companies Act, 1956 from time to time. The Value of Computers is Rs. 1,00,75,693 out of which value Rs. 21,20,051 were put to use during the year. Hence Depreciation is calculated on computers which are put to use.

g) Investments:

Investments are classified into Current and Long-term Investments. Current Investments are stated at lower of cost and fair value. Long-term Investments are stated at cost. A provision for diminution is made to recognize a decline, other than temporary, in the value of Long-term Investments. However, fixed income long term securities are stated at cost, less amortization of premium/ discount and provision for diminution to recognize a decline, other than temporary.

h) Foreign Currency transactions:

As per the Accounting standard – 11, there are no foreign currency transactions undertaken by the Company during the year under review.

i) Employee Benefits:

There is no employee in the company, particulars of whom are required to be furnished under section 217(2A), of the Companies Act, 1956.

Earnings per share:j)

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit/ (loss) after tax (including the post-tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for events including a bonus issue, bonus element in a rights issue to existing shareholders, share split and reverse share split (consolidation of shares). For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

k) Related Party Transactions:

During the Financial Year 2013-2014, there is no transaction made with related party, therefore the Accounting standard-18 "Related Party disclosure" is not required.

l) Taxes on Income:

Income-tax expense comprises current tax and deferred tax charge or credit. Provision for current tax is made on the basis of the assessable income at the tax rate applicable to the relevant assessment year.

Minimum Alternative Tax credit is recognized as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the company will pay normal tax during the specified period. In terms of our report attached.
